

GARY ALDERMAN
CONFESSES ALLAnthony Baucus Tells about Franchise Bribery.

OTHERS TO MAKE STATEMENTS

Baucus Acknowledges Figuring with Dean on How Much Money Would Buy Other Members of City Council.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 14.—Anthony Baucus, a member of the city council, arrested on a charge of accepting a bribe in connection with the granting of a heating franchise to T. B. Dean, has made a confession.

Three other members of the council are arranging with the state's attorney to give detailed statements of their part in the affair. Baucus says that he saw Dean for the first time about three months ago when Dean visited Baucus' saloon. They had a long talk about the ordinance for the heating plant, a copy of which Dean had with him, and Dean asked Baucus if he would be willing to take a present of $500 extra besides his salary.

At another meeting in the Gary hotel, he confesses, he figured with Dean how much the other members of the council ought to have, and Baucus said that he asked $1,500 for his share and that at Dean's suggestion they went to Chicago and put the money in a safety deposit box. Baucus says he kept one key for the box and Dean the other, that there was an agreement between them that the money would not be paid over to Baucus until the ordinance was passed and signed by Mayor Knotts. The money was put in an envelope in Chicago and marked "Contract." Dean signed his name on the envelope and Baucus signed it.

Baucus, in his confession, said that he asked Dean how much money he had to pay Tom Knotts and Dean said that he would pay him $5,000 to sign the ordinance. Baucus says that the total amount of money he was to get was $1,500, but in the final check he was paid $1,000 and that this money is still in the safety deposit box in Chicago.

Nyhoff Reported Missing.
Crown Point, Ind., Sept. 14.—Deputy sheriffs left here for Gary with a warrant for the arrest of John J. Nyhoff, who is accused of soliciting a bribe in connection with the granting of a heating franchise. Nyhoff learned of the issuance of the warrant, they reported, and disappeared.

COSTLY STRIKE TO BE CLOSED BY LATE DECISION

Chicago, Sept. 14.—An agreement reached last night between rival factions in the building trades will bring to an end a strike which has prevailed nearly a year, has cost the building industries of this city millions of dollars, has entailed the murder of at least three men, the kidnapping or assassination of a fourth and the beating and maiming of more than 100 others.

The agreement was signed by Martin B. (Skinny) Madden, representing the steamfitters' union, and Simon O'Donnell, leader of the plumbers.

The trouble between the plumbers and steamfitters began when John R. Alpine, president of the plumbers' union, and a vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, organized a dual union of steamfitters and sought to compel the international organizations to amalgamate with the plumbers. The different building trades immediately divided on the question, and the issue was forced from both sides by one faction calling strikes on the other. The question will be settled by the federation and pending that the hatchet is buried.

Ann Arbor, Sept. 14.—Edgar M. Durfee, of Detroit, son of Probate Judge Durfee, has been appointed assistant professor in the law department of the U. of M. He will assume part of the duties laid down by Prof. Bradley M. Thompson, whose resignation from the law faculty, after over a quarter of a century of service, takes effect October 1. Prof. Durfee will teach mortgages, quasi contracts, taxation and will assist in the practice court beside.

BUSHNELL SAYS
SHOOTING WAS IN SELF DEFENCE

Pontiac, Mich., Sept. 14.—Harry Bushnell, accused of assault with intent to murder William Tate, took the stand in his own defense Wednesday. Bushnell admitted the shooting, but declared it was in self-defense. He said he was on Cass Lake and came to shore where he saw bathing suits hanging in the sun to dry. Then discovering Tate and his wife near the shore of the lake, he thought it would be funny to frighten them. He fired two shots and looking again Tate had disappeared.

The next instant, Bushnell says, the charge from Tate's gun struck him in the face and he then fired the third shot, aiming at Tate's shoulder, where the bullet took effect. He heard the commotion which followed, but knowing the wound was not serious he returned to his boat and rowed to the boat livery. He realized there would be considerable of a fuss, he said, and considered it the wise course for him to keep out of sight for a couple of weeks until the matter had quieted down. He went to Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, where he shipped on a freighter as a sailor.

On cross-examination the prosecution assailed his character and reputation, Bushnell refusing to answer a question as to whether he had visited a disorderly house the night previous to the shooting. The court will decide whether this point will be admitted and also the admission of obscene letters and pictures which were taken from Bushnell's trunk.

Prof. Edward E. Rich of the engineering department of the University of Michigan identified a big map which he made of the scene of the shooting and also a large relief map showing the location of every mound, tree or log. Five large photographs of the scene were also presented and one of a tree bearing a bullet hole. Prof. Carey, also of Ann Arbor, was to have taken the stand for the defense today. The case will probably be finished Thursday.

The prosecution closed its case yesterday without having established by a single witness a motive for Bushnell's alleged attempted murder of Tate. Disinterested lawyers say Bushnell will not be convicted on the charge. The information in the case contains but a single count, assault with intent to commit murder.

Although there was at one time suspicion that Bushnell knew something of the murder of Frank Bevier a year ago, that case had not been mentioned in this trial.

SAID SHE WAS FOLLOWED

ASKED LOCAL POLICE FOR PROTECTION AND THREATENED TO SHOOT.

Labored under the delusion that she was being followed by the Toronto police, a woman giving the name of Miss Mary Irving and claiming Brooklyn as her home appealed to the local officers for protection, Tuesday afternoon. She claimed that she had secured a position in a local tailor shop, but was unable to stay as the Toronto police were pursuing her. She claimed that she had just come from Detroit and wanted money to get back there. She was well dressed and wore a tailored suit of medium shade and a rather large dark hat. In her shopping bag she carried a certificate from Dr. Talmadge's church in New York City and also letters from parties in Nebraska. When questioned she said that a Detroit attorney had told her she was perfectly justified in shooting the officers who pursued her. When asked the name of the Detroit attorney she said that he had asked her not to give his name.

She was given the transportation to Detroit and left for there about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

MOUNT ETNA STILL THREATENING TO BRING DISASTER

Catania, Sicily, Sept. 14.—Mount Etna is still threatening. The lava stream, whose path crosses the railway line circling the volcano, is approaching the railway stations to the north, and especially threatening depots at Moio and Alcantara, which have been abandoned.

Squads of laborers are at work taking up the railroad tracks and removing all portable material to places of safety.

The entire crest of Mount Etna appears to be in a state of ebullition. An exact count of the number of fissures is impossible because of the smoke, which shrouds the whole mountain, but there seemed to be at least thirty openings, all sending out smoke and lava.

The gravity of the eruption is indicated by the abandonment of the railway stations of Moio and Alcantara. The latter place marked the limit of the lava flow in the eruption of 1879. Moio was threatened at that time but escaped.

The eruption means great suffering for the peasantry. The slopes of Etna, with an area of more than 400 square miles, support a population more dense than that of any other part of Sicily or Italy.

There are sixty-five cities and villages in the entire area, and the number of inhabitants which obtain an excellent agricultural living from the fertile lava beds totals more than 300,000 people.

Letter Explains Dr.
Angell's Condition

Ann Arbor, Sept. 14.—The first authentic report regarding the illness which has come upon Dr. James B. Angell, president emeritus of the University of Michigan, while he has been traveling abroad, was received at the office of President Hutchins Wednesday afternoon.

It was a letter from Prof. M. L. D'Ooge, with whom Dr. Angell is traveling. The letter is dated September 3, and is written from Berlin, Germany. It says, referring to Dr. Angell:

"You will wish to know the facts about Dr. Angell's illness. Until our arrival here last Tuesday, he appeared to have endured the journey remarkably well.

"But we had a hard trip from Moscow here, two nights on sleepers. Owing partly, no doubt, to the hardships of this journey, Dr. Angell awoke Wednesday morning to find that his left side was slightly paralyzed.

"We secured as soon as possible an excellent German physician who has been most attentive and efficient, and who at once got an excellent nurse. Dr. Angell's mind has not been impaired in the least, and he is today sitting up and walks about his room.

"The nurse will probably not be needed after tomorrow. A lesion, or slight attack of apoplexy—this is the whole of it.

"There appears to be every reason to expect that when he returns home no one would ever suspect that anything had ever happened to him.

"But of course, such an attack is liable to recur when a man reaches such an advanced age, and it was with this contingency in view that the doctor advised that word be sent to his children and that one of them be asked to come here to be with him.

"His son James is on the way here now. We expect him a week from today. Dr. Angell is very desirous that you should contradict all exaggerated reports about his condition. He is very bright and cheerful."

The son James referred to is Prof. James Angell of the University of Chicago.

Root Pays $60 On Account In Court

Ann Arbor, Sept. 14.—Wednesday morning was the time set for F. M. Root to show the circuit court why he should not be jailed for contempt for refusing to pay $7.50 a week temporary alimony to his wife, Minnie Root. Root had refused to pay and had so notified the court through County Clerk Miller. Root must have thought better of it, however, for he was not so cocky Wednesday in court, and consented to pay $60 on account, claiming that though all the money he had with him, though he promised to pay up the difference soon. There is about $15 more due on back alimony.

The Root vs. Root divorce suit will come up for a hearing in October.

BRUTAL WRETCH BEATEN

Driver Runs Down Child and Throws Body Aside.

Fellow Laborers Hear of Act and Would Have Killed Him,
but for Police.

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., Sept. 14.—After running down and fatally wounding little Joseph Surek, three years old, Joseph Plushinski, a driver of a brick cart for the Joseph Belle Isle Brick company, picked the child's crushed body from the road, threw it into a clump of bushes by the roadside and drove on. The child's body, covered with blood, was discovered half an hour later and carried to its parents' home.

When the news of the driver's act reached the ears of the other hundred laborers in the yard, they sought Plushinski and attacked him with clubs and stones, breaking one of his arms and otherwise badly injuring him. The interference of the police only saved the man from being beaten to death. The child died soon after being found.

LOVELACE PLAN IS APPROVED AT
K.O.T.M.M. SESSION

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 14.—Great Commander Lovelace won out completely in his fight for a readjustment of the rates of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees.

The great camp of the order in session last night almost unanimously approved the Lovelace plan. This means that Maccabees can never again have as cheap life insurance as they have had in past years. Also it means that the order is to be placed on a sound business basis, and protected against bankruptcy.

There was a warm fight over the readjustment. The fight narrowed down between the Landis plan of adjustment and the Lovelace plan. The executive committee approved the latter, and the committee on laws had approved the former. All the delegates had come to the conclusion that some adjustment was needed.

The session became so warm that it was with great difficulty that order was at times maintained. The insurgent movement in the order was very pronounced, and although the administration has won a complete victory, it was not without a memorable fight. The Landis plan was put forth by Actuary Abb Landis and provided for charging compound interest for all who should take out the age of entry deduction plan.

MAY HAVE COUNTERFEITER

SECRET SERVICE OFFICERS
BELIEVE NEGRO TO BE A BAD MAN.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 14.—It is believed by secret service men in this city that the capture at Memphis, Tennessee, of John G. Payne, a negro counterfeiter, will in a short time put an end to the circulation of a very dangerous counterfeit silver dollar in this part of the country. For a time it was believed that the counterfeiters in circulation here were the work of Mexicans who worked over the Mexican silver dollar and give twice its value when molded in the form of a United States dollar. Two Mexicans were arrested a short time ago at El Paso, charged with the crime, but their detention in prison awaiting trial did not lessen the inflow of counterfeit silver. It is alleged that Payne dealt largely with the negroes of the southwest and that it was through them that the product of his spurious mint found way into circulation. It is perceived that Payne's work is so perfect that many of the dollars pass through the banks undetected. Just how he got the weight, ring, and general appearance of the standard dollar is a mystery that so far is unexplained.

CONGREGATIONALIST PASTOR WHO PERFORMED ASTOR WEDDING SERVICE IS ATTACK BY MINISTERS

Rev. Joseph Lambert, pastor of the Elmwood Congregational temple here, who performed the marriage ceremony at the much discussed wedding of Colonel John Jacob Astor and Madeline Force. Mr. Lambert, it is said, received a fee of $1,000. Various ministers have openly condemned Mr. Lambert, who says in defense: "I knew I should be criticised if I performed the ceremony, but I knew a great deal of the criticism would come from the unthinking. Personally I think remarriage is much to be preferred to relations that might arise under prohibition of marriage. I took the counsel of several ministers in the city, and I found that they thought generally as I did. The newspaper stir, of course, made it hard to decide to officiate."

PRETTY WIFE OF POLITICIAN
GETS A DIVORCE

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—Mrs. B. Frank Hall, pretty wife of the prominent Lansing politician, was granted a decree of divorce on the ground of cruelty by Judge Hosmer yesterday, after a trial in which charges of a sensational nature were made by the wife and denied by Hall.

It is possible that the case may be appealed on a technicality. The bill of complaint has been amended since the trial commenced to make it include charges of extreme cruelty. The law says that where cruelty is charged the trial must not commence until 60 days after the charges are filed. The trial judge was not quite sure whether this meant in this case 60 days after the amended bill was filed, or if the amended bill was to be taken as of the same date as the original. He took the latter view and left it to the supreme court, if either of the parties cared to carry it up, to decide.

What complicated the trial was that two cases were being tried in one. The divorce suit only was before the court, but each of the parties had in mind the suit for damages for alleged alienation of a wife's affections brought by Hall against the Hardings. This is why anything to do with the hiring of a detective, and why his daughter asserted so positively that if she loved a man and he treated her right, there was no person in the world who could influence her to leave him, and that in such case her family would count for nothing.

Six directors were elected, five being those whose term of office was for one year and one to fill the vacancy opened by A. J. Fullington when he left the city. Robert W. Hemphill, Jr. was chosen to fill this vacancy and the five members whose term had expired were re-elected.

In the absence of D. L. Quirk, Jr. the secretary and treasury report was presented by Fred Gallup. Only one assessment has been requested from the subscribers who have agreed to contribute to the promotion funds and of this money there is still nearly $500 in the treasury. The expenditures have been small and discreet, and the report was generally convincing that the money was in thoroughly reliable hands and would be used only for most advisable and safe purposes.

At the suggestion of J. J. Hoch the advisability of securing the services of a publicity manager was discussed and it developed that the general disposition of the members of the association was decidedly favorable. The matter was left entirely with the board of directors and an effort will no doubt be made in the early future to secure an efficient representative who can find the kind of industrial enterprise that will warrant the investment of local capital, if local residents wish to invest, instead of wasting time with numerous fake concerns and penniless inventors who flood the mails with their propositions, which almost invariably fall flat upon the first investigation, but which, nevertheless require much time and careful consideration from busy men who have volunteered their services for the betterment of the city.

Numerous propositions of this unwarranted type have been handled by the officers of the association during the past year and although many look very promising on paper, their real value has in every instance been betrayed under the careful investigation of directors and officers in charge of the work. In view of these facts it seems evident to the members of the association that one efficient man with no other duties, could quickly and effectively solve the industrial problem which is now confronting the city and that salary and expenses for such a man would be the wisest possible way to utilize the funds subscribed.

ARRANGEMENTS
FOR BOY SCOUTS
PROGRESSING WELL

The arrangements for transporting the Boy Scouts of Ypsilanti to Detroit next Monday are progressing finely. The terms which the Michigan Central have made with the Michigan Central have been better than at first appeared. They will reserve two coaches for the scouts, exclusively, going and coming. One hundred tickets have had to be guaranteed, but it is thought that very likely the parents of the scouts will in many cases be interested to accompany the boys. Just the number of tickets left over will be announced later.

The boys are to be taken absolutely without charge. They will be able to go to school in the morning as usual. The train leaves at 11:59 and returning, leaves Detroit at 5:05 p. m. This arrangement will not make any meals in Detroit a necessity, so the entire trip will be without a cent of expense to the boys.

The action of the United States Steel Corporation in placing the ban on cigarettes and tobacco generally and prohibiting their use amongst the employees because they have found "it is injurious to the health of the working-men" is a move which will help probably more than much preaching to bring home this fact to tobacco users and especially cigarette victims, as has the same preaching by the best business interests regarding the harmful use of intoxicating liquors. The encouraging thing about this move on the part of the steel corporation is that the employees are reported to have conceded the point and dropped into line very willingly. And the office force comes under the same rule as the rest.

If the United State Steel Corporation will now proceed to put into operation some other things which it is responsible for the existence of and which is equally injurious to the health of the workingmen, it will continue to be commended. For example, suppose it stopped working many of its men twelve hours a day and seven days in the week. Suppose it produces an environment which will disarm this business from the charge that it holds a higher score for fatalities and injuries than any other industry. Suppose it cleans out those slums which an investigation found were being continued upon company property. Suppose it creates, so far as possible, a condition of life in the mills which will reduce this life from one of an average of five years to one as long as any other trade can boast.

These are some other things we feel sure the American people are waiting to commend the United States Steel Corporation for incorporating into their daily grinding out of human life.

FRECKLES GONE

"Simple Remedy from my Druggist Removed Them," Says Society Lady.

"The best skin specialists told me that nothing would remove my freckles and that I would carry them to my grave," said a well known society woman, "but I fooled them all with a new drug, othine—double strength, that I bought at my druggist's which cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of othine is really remarkable, for when applied at night, many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning, and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even for the worst case.

Be sure to ask your druggist for the double strength othine, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

USE OF PEAT AS A STABLE LITTER.

By C. S. ROBINSON,
OF THE MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

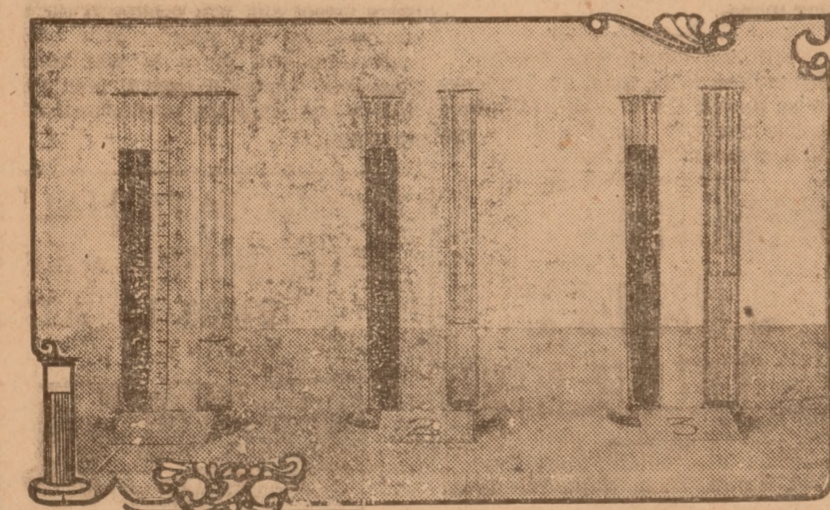

Stable litter has four chief uses in the preservation of manure. First, it absorbs the liquid manure and prevents its draining away; second, it absorbs ammonia, one of the most valuable constituents of manure; third, it makes manure easier to handle, and fourth, it acts as a deodorizer and makes the presence of manure less objectionable. The first two of these functions are exceedingly important from a financial point of view. In the manure formed by horses, sheep and cows practically 65 per cent of the nitrogen and 80 per cent of the potash are found in the liquid manure. Most of this is directly available for plant food, while a considerable part of that in the solid manure is not available or immediate use. For these reasons more attention should be paid to the conservation of the liquid portion of the manure than is customary in common farm practice. As is well known, ammonia is very valuable for fertilizing purposes and is by no means the least expensive fertilizing material on the market. The strong odor of ammonia noticeable in the vicinity of any ordinary manure pile is sufficient indication that it is there in large quantities and is escaping into the air to be a complete loss to the farmer. The prime requisite for a good litter, then, is that it shall have strong absorbent powers for both liquids and gases. In addition it must be cheap, easy to obtain and convenient to handle. The most common litter is, of course, straw, which, however, fulfills very poorly the requirements given above for a good stable litter. It is a poor absorbent for either liquid manure or ammonia and has no value as a deodorizer or disinfectant. It has some little value in making the manure easier to handle, but when one remembers that the solid portion contains less than one-third of the plant food this one advantage assumes minor importance.

A material which answers more fully all of the above-mentioned specifications is raw muck, or peat, and where it is available, is by far the best material for the purpose. In most parts of the state it can be readily obtained, and many farms have more or less of it which is considered waste land by the owners. Ordinarily, as it comes from the bog, it is mostly water. 100 pounds of the wet material contains from 50 to 80 pounds of moisture, though in dry seasons this may be considerably diminished. By shoveling over, on dry ground, and exposing to the action of the wind and sun, this amount may be reduced to 10 or 15 pounds. The dry material can then be hauled to the barn and stored under some sort of shed for use as required. In this air-dry condition it has extremely high absorbent powers and can take up many times its weight of liquid and large quantities of gaseous material, thus drying the manure and making it pulverulent and easier to handle.

In addition to these qualities, peat itself has more or less value as a fertilizer on account of its nitrogen content. Though the total amount of nitrogen present in peat is considerable, that part which is immediately available for plant use is quite small. Experiments which have been conducted in Michigan and elsewhere seem to indicate that mixing with manure brings about some change whereby a greater portion of this nitrogen is made directly available. Peat is also valuable for the humus or organic matter which it supplies to the soil, and this gives it another advantage over straw.

WATER, AND SOIL FERTILITY--- MUCK CONTAINS MOST MOISTURE.

By C. H. SPURWAY, of the M. A. C.

Showing Comparative Water-Holding Capacities of a Sandy Loam, Clay Loam and Muck Soil (After King).

The fertility of any soil depends in a large measure upon the amount of water which that soil will hold under field conditions, and which will flow away through the drainage system. Our ordinary field crops require enormous amounts of water in order to give a good growth and profitable returns. If the crop cannot obtain water when it needs it, then there will be a cessation of growth which will result in low yields.

The illustration shows approximately the amount of water which each of three ordinary kinds of soil will hold under field conditions. Each group of two jars shows 12 inches of soil, the one at the right the water held by that kind of soil. Group No. 1 contains a sandy loam soil, and the amount of water held by this soil under field conditions a few days after heavy rains is three inches. This means that the soil over a sandy loam field to the depth of 12 inches will hold in the spaces between the soil grains an amount of water which would cover the field to the depth of three inches.

Group No. 2 contains a clay loam soil, and the amount of water held in this case is 3 1/2 inches. A muck soil is shown in the third group, and the water held by a foot of this soil is six inches.

The important thing for the farmer to consider is the reason why one soil holds more water than another.

containing from 50 to 80 pounds of moisture, though in dry seasons this may be considerably diminished. By shoveling over, on dry ground, and exposing to the action of the wind and sun, this amount may be reduced to 10 or 15 pounds. The dry material can then be hauled to the barn and stored under some sort of shed for use as required. In this air-dry condition it has extremely high absorbent powers and can take up many times its weight of liquid and large quantities of gaseous material, thus drying the manure and making it pulverulent and easier to handle.

In addition to these qualities, peat itself has more or less value as a fertilizer on account of its nitrogen content. Though the total amount of nitrogen present in peat is considerable, that part which is immediately available for plant use is quite small. Experiments which have been conducted in Michigan and elsewhere seem to indicate that mixing with manure brings about some change whereby a greater portion of this nitrogen is made directly available. Peat is also valuable for the humus or organic matter which it supplies to the soil, and this gives it another advantage over straw.

FILLING THE SILO.

Let the Corn Mature Well, Even to the Stage of Being Ready For Husking.

The first consideration is to have the silo ready, including all necessary repairs, for indications are that ensilage making will begin early this season. It is poor economy to begin repairing when the silage cutter starts, and hunt the old or make new doors as the filling progresses, for the packing and tramping is sure to be neglected. The same is true also of the silage cutter, corn harvester and equipment for handling and hauling.

Let the corn mature well, even to the stage of being ready to cut and shock for husking; it will make a sweeter silage.

The silo may be filled to the top without cessation and then more added after it settles, but before the top layer spoils. It used to be considered necessary to lay off occasionally to give the silage a chance to settle, but this is not essential.

In the case of immature, frosted corn it has been commonly assumed that it should be hurried into the silo as quickly as possible after the freeze. Recent experience, however, seems to indicate that a delay of several days is not injurious, but rather beneficial providing loss of leaves does not occur from too prolonged delay.

Don't Let the Gates Drag.

Keep the gates fixed up. A gate that sags out of place or drags on the ground wastes a lot of your time during the year.

Feet Tired-- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once, and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luth-er Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"DRYS" ADMIT MAINE "WET"

Prohibition Organ Officially Says State Has Gone for Liquor.

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—The Portland Evening Express, a prohibition paper, controlled by the family of the late Neal Dow, issued a bulletin stating that Maine has gone "wet" by 500 votes.

With all but seventy-six of the 521 cities, towns and plantations verified by mail returns from town and city clerks, there was an apparent majority against the repeal of constitutional prohibition of 359 votes.

Returns received by the Lewiston Journal from 476 town and city clerks out of 521 show an apparent majority against repeal of 505 votes.

EXONERATES SUGAR TRUST

Congressman Hardwick Blames Short Crop for Rise in Sugar.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 14.—Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia, chairman of the congressional committee investigating the operations of the alleged sugar trust, who is in Savannah, says the trust is not to blame for the price of sugar advancing as it has been during the past few weeks.

He said: "The increase in the price of sugar is not the result of manipulation. It is solely the result of lack of production in Cuba and elsewhere."

REPAIRING FOWLER'S PLANE

Aviator Who Fell in Sierra Mountains Is Entirely Recovered.

Dutch Flats, Cal., Sept. 13.—Spare parts have arrived for the broken aeroplane of Bob Fowler, the aviator, who fell near here while attempting to cross the Sierras in his trip from San Francisco to New York. The work of getting the machine in shape for further use was commenced.

Fowler says he has entirely recovered from his shaking up and is ready, just as soon as his plane can be repaired, to resume his interrupted journey.

BURGESS' GREAT SWIMMING FEAT

After Fifteen Attempts He Finally Negotiates English Channel.

TWENTY-TWO HOURS IN WATER

Distance Covered Owing to Zigzag Course Was Close to Sixty Miles. First to Equal Feat of Captain Webb in 1875.

By TOMMY CLARK.
After a lapse of thirty-six years, in which numberless attempts have been made, Captain Matthew Webb's feat of swimming the English channel has been duplicated by William Burgess, a Yorkshireman by birth and a blacksmith in Paris. It was Burgess' sixteenth attempt, he having first essayed the task in 1904.

Burgess started from South Foreman, Dover, fifteen minutes past 11 o'clock the morning of Sept. 5. He landed at La Chatele, a little village two miles east of Cape Gris Nez, at ten minutes before 10 o'clock the morning of the 6th, accomplishing the passage in 22 hours 35 minutes. A motorboat accompanied the swimmer, and it is estimated that Mr. Burgess, owing to the zigzag course he was compelled to take because of baffling tides, covered sixty miles.

Throughout the trip Burgess was favored by a calm sea, but a strong tide was running, and a severe strain was put on the swimmer to get past the Goodwin sands. Twice he was attacked by illness and several times was held by his task only by the strongest will power and the encouraging words of the men in the boat.

For the trip across the channel Burgess was well greased. He wore a pair of goggles and a rubber bathing cap. A party of eleven accompanied him in the motorboat.

Swimming the English channel is not like taking a dip in the surf at some seaside resort, a dash through a nice calm lake or a swim from one side of the river to the other. Natation on a rough day in the tempestuous Atlantic ocean gives an idea of the European feat, but still it lacks some of the essential features that have made the aquatic Marathon unswum by so many.

The English channel is probably the best body of water known to thoroughly try the capabilities of a swimmer. First there is necessary the ability to swim, and swim well. Then comes endurance, a potential factor, as the sailors the world over know the channel as one of the stormiest bits of water to be encountered. The historic bay of Biscay is often peaceful, the English channel seldom so.

It is the strong and varying current in the English channel that renders the crossing so difficult, even, in fact, for vessels. While the distance from Dover to Calais is only a fraction over twenty miles, the tide and current sweep the swimmers back and forth, up and down the course, almost at will at times. Captain Webb is estimated to have covered almost forty miles when he swam the channel.

Of course no story is complete without mention of Captain Paul Boyton. The latter was the first man to cross the channel, but he did it in his famous rubber air inflated suit.

Statistics give a faint idea to the uninitiated of the hardships involved. Below are a few of the requisites:

Food.—Swimmers must be able to take food in the water without the admixture of salt water, in which case seasickness usually results.

Eyes.—The eyes must be accustomed to salt water, and in addition a canvas helmet with glass eyes is generally used, protecting the eyes as well.

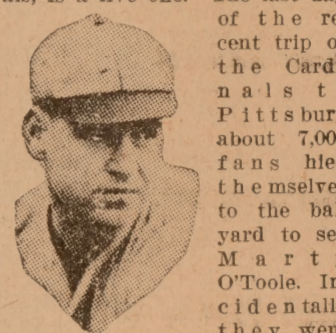

Head and Brain.—A thin rubber skullcap is generally used to keep the head and brain warm and prevent shivers.

Hands and Feet.—Because of the suffering from cold the hands and feet, together with the stomach, neck, back of the head and outside of the ears, are usually anointed with tar, the inside of the ears being plugged with soft wax, held in by wadding.

Body.—The body is smeared with Russian tallow in order to retain the natural heat as long as possible, and lard is used as a second dressing.

EVANS OF CARDINALS A GREAT JOKER.

Steve Evans, the clever outfielder of the St. Louis Nationals, is a live one.

EVANS.

The Cardinals and Pirates play. Anyhow it rained, and they were doubly disappointed, as O'Toole didn't even warm up. Coming back on the car, which was crowded, everybody was talking about O'Toole.

Steve Evans hopped on and found Ivy Wingo standing in about the middle of the car. Ivy has red hair and looks a great deal like O'Toole. This was Steve's cue.

He braced Ivy with extended mitt and spied in a stage whisper: "Hello, Marty! How do you like Pittsburgh?"

The crowd ate it up. One public spirited citizen introduced himself to Wingo (rather, O'Toole) and invited him (Wingo) to call around for lunch the following day. Then Steve asked Wingo about his great pitching feats in St. Paul, and in the meantime many passengers rode past their intended destinations.

Steve never overlooks a bet.

RAMSDELL NOW A PRO.

Crack Sprinter, Athletic Director at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

Another great amateur athlete has joined the professional ranks. He is Fred L. (Tex) Ramsdell, last year the star sprinter of the University of Pennsylvania track team and All American football player.

Ramsdell has accepted a position as athletic director of the Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh. Ramsdell won the 100 yard and 220 yard championships in England, but met with ill luck in the Edinburgh (Scotland) races, where the runners received too much of a handicap on him.

Clarke Takes Many Chances.
Fred Clarke is one of the few outfielders who once in awhile dare shoot the ball in to second base when a runner turns that bag instead of always making the conventional return to third. The play calls for quick perception and some boldness and is a departure from conservatism which most outfielders haven't the rapid judgment to chance.

Young Jackson Elopers Breaks Parole and Loses Liberty.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 14.—Inability on the part of Mark Moore to resist the attractions of fifteen-year-old Cassie Brodick may result in sending that young man to prison as he was taken into custody by the sheriff charged with violating the provisions of his probation. Moore, who is twenty-eight, is the young farm hand who eloped to Detroit with Cassie Brodick, the daughter of his employer, and was captured in Windsor, when he applied for a marriage license.

Sunday Moore went to the Brodick farm, thereby violating one of the provisions of his parole. He claims that he went to the farm to secure some money which was due him for services while he was employed on the farm.

Common Colds Must be taken Seriously.
For unless cured they sap the vitality and lower the vital resistance to more serious infection. Protect your children and yourself by the prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and note its quick and decisive results. For coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis and affections of the throat, chest and lungs it is an ever ready and valuable remedy. Remember the name, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and refuse substitutes. The genuine is in a yellow package. Weinmann & Matthews.

BASEBALL QUIPS.

John Dovey, former part owner of the Boston National League club, is now a scout for the Louisville team.

Connie Mack says he wouldn't pay $22,500 for a whole league. That's a roundabout way of taking a slam at Lefty Russell.

Harry Truby, the old Chicago player who is now an umpire, had a run in with a player the other day. When the player showed fight Truby said: "Go and sit down. I can give you rocks and I'll take buns and run you out of the park."

Silk O'Laughlin, the umpire, says more hits are made on bad balls than good ones. Silk has seen thousands of hits made and says a big majority were on balls that were too far out, too close or too high or too low to be strikes.

SMOTHERS UNDER PILLOW

Arrest of Port Huron Father Is Ordered After Investigation.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 14.—Because William, seven-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Marleton, cried too much last Sunday, the father put a pillow over the child's face to stop him. He claims he left the pillow there but a few moments, but at any rate when the parents looked at their babe a few minutes later, it was dead.

Marleton hurried called up Coroner Falk and asked him to bring a doctor. He was so excited that for a long time he was unable to tell the coroner where to come and what his name was, but finally managed to calm down enough to talk. An inquest was held and the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that the child came to its death by suffocation and strangulation. As a result the father's arrest has been ordered by the prosecuting attorney and it is likely that he will be held on a charge of manslaughter.

NOBODY SPARED

Kidney Troubles Attack Ypsilanti Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years. Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the cause. Ypsilanti testimony proves it.

Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, 513 S. Huron St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s drug store, brought good results in my son's case. About three years ago he had an attack of typhoid fever and after that he complained of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. When stooping or lifting, his back bothered him more than ever and often there was sediment in the kidney secretions, plainly proving that his kidneys were disordered. The contents of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills removed every symptom of this trouble and in return for this great improvement I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Dr. Campbell and sister of Prospect street have gone to New York state to spend the winter with friends.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Kneip, of Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 10th, a son.

Miss Eva B. Sellen of Saline has accepted a position at Zwerger's book store.

At the home of her son, W. H. Sweet, Mrs. J. M. Sweet is greatly enjoying a visit from a niece from whom she has been separated over twenty years. The niece was accompanied by a nephew, A. J. Powell, from Brooklyn, N. Y., who is 70 years of age.

Miss Eleanor Mead wishes to state that the recovery of the watch and rings which she recently lost was due to the fact that they were returned by those who had taken them evidently through fear of being discovered.

Miss Edith Dixon of the Training school faculty who has been spending the past month at her home at Winona, Minn., is expected in the city to resume her work Sunday evening.

Mrs. Wellington of Springfield is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. J. Webster Pearce, of Normal street.

The Misses Darrel and Ella Pearce of Normal street who have been spending the past few weeks with relatives at Springfield have returned home.

A Great Saving to Working Men

J. A. Maple, 125 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." Weinmann-Matthews.

G. A. R. ROMANCE IN POEM FORM

The following poem was written a time ago by a member of the U and I Helping Hand society and refers to the romantic marriage of one of their friends during the encampment.

The bride is reported happy in her new home at Eaton Rapids where she has been since the wedding on the Congress street grand stand.

U AND I.
(By Ellen Underwood)
It was down at Ypsilanti,
Where I met the G. A. R.'s,
Where they held the big encampment
'Neath the good old stripes and stars.

It was at the Daisy Market,
Where the U and I made cash,
That a dear old hero wandered in
One day to get some hash.

And there he met Samantha,
While waiting on the table;
Straightaway they made a mash
As fast as they were able.

And the U and I Helping Hand,
When it got under way,
Helped well to make the bargain,
That hot, hot, summer day.

Then straightaway to Ann Arbor,
The papers they must find,
And left two "weary Willies"
Trailing on their track behind.

In vain we tried to fill them up,
With good ice cream and cake;
The groom declared it was so hot
That more he could not take.

They took the train and went away,
For better or for worse,
And we hope it is for better
For he seemed to have a purse.

They went to Eaton Rapids —
That's not so very far —
So if you wish to see them,
Well, now that's where they are.

So good by friend Samantha,
And Loren, too, good bye;
You never can forget the day
You met the U and I.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every carton and bottle of PARISIAN SAGE. Look for it as imitations are numerous. Large bottle 50 cents at Duane Spalsbury's and druggists everywhere.

MACCABEE RATES MAY RISE

Great Commander Asserts It Is Necessary to Increase Payments.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 14.—Great Commander George S. Lovelace of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees, in his opening address at the Great Camp review in this city declared that a readjustment of rates is absolutely essential for the best interests of the order.

"There are two courses open to the society," he said. "It must either call a constantly increasing number of additional assessments at its present rates or it must readjust its rates so that twelve assessments a year will be sufficient to mature practically all its obligations in the future."

POST POSES AS BUILDER

Battle Creek Man Plans Structures to Cost $500,000.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 14.—C. W. Post announces that he will erect on Jackson street a three-story newspaper building for the Enquirer and News, a power plant to furnish heat and light to all the Post structures; an artificial ice plant, and a business block that will extend full half a city block and will contain offices, lodge rooms and stores.

At Jackson and McCamly streets he will build a ten-story Tavern Annex and between the Post building and Post theater he will erect a six-story office building. The buildings will cost half a million.

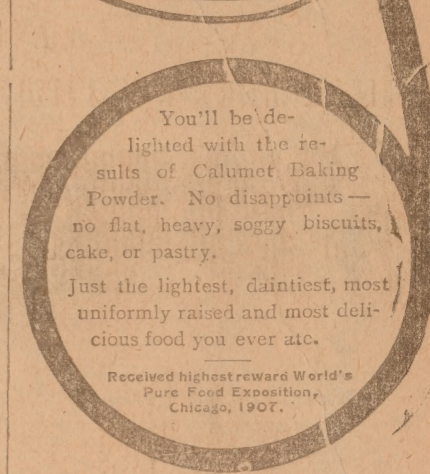

YOU CAN HAVE HEALTHY HAIR

USE WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR. A HARMLESS REMEDY THAT MAKES THE HAIR GROW.

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak, thin or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is a clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at any time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start today with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.

Seven Months of Artificial Light In the Home

Sight is one of the most precious possessions of men, women and CHILDREN.

During seven months of the year, most of the close application of eyesight in your home is by artificial light.

Is the artificial light in your home good or bad?

Before the long evenings come when the family gathers near the LIGHT—look into this matter carefully.

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the best light in the home. It is economical and it is far more convenient than any other form of lighting.

Insurance companies rank electric light the safest.
